NEWS RELEASE

July 19, 2011

Ingersoll Fire and Emergency Service is encouraging residents not to conduct recreational burning while we are encountering these extreme heat and dry conditions.

Open air burning is not permitted if a smog alert has been declared.

If you choose to have a recreational fire, it is imperative that you never leave the fire unattended and that you have a method of fire extinguishment shall be immediately available for use.

If conditions continue, a fire ban may be put in place. Please refer often for any updates.

The Open Air Burning regulation can be found at www.ingersoll.ca or by calling 519-485-3910.
