DOWNTOWN BUSINESS AREA SAFETY PRACTICES HIGHLIGHTED

(INGERSOLL, ON.) – Members of Oxford County Ontario Provincial Police and their Auxiliary unit will be out walking the beat of the Ingersoll downtown core on Saturday, February 4, 2012 in a one day safety check of local businesses and buildings.

Officers will be attending and speaking with business owners and employees on good safety practices. This safety check plays in part with the Boots on the Beat program started in Ingersoll in the late fall. Officers have become more visible on foot in their downtown patrols in an effort to deter criminals from targeting the local business area. As well, information will be made available on the Robbery Prevention Program the OPP has in effect.

Local businesses are encouraged to advise their employees and customers of the increased presence anticipated for February 4th, 2012 and feel free to take some time to speak with officers about any safety questions they may have.
