Builders

Both Jack and his brother Don McNiven have put Ingersoll on the map wherever harness horses are raced. Their farm, Killean Acres of Ingersoll, is known for raising and breeding champion horses. Over the years, the McNiven brothers have successfully stood stallions, bred mares, raised yearling, and sold champion Standardbreds from their home at Killean Acres. Many young local individuals have been taught horsemanship and the horse breeding business by Jack & Don McNiven, going on to have successful careers because of the credibility gained by working for the McNivens.

Both Jack & Don McNiven have been strong supporters of community sports and have given much of their time, knowledge, and money to this facet of Ingersoll. Such support included the First Intermediate Marland Hockey Team through to the Junior teams of the 1960s, 70s, and 80s. The brothers have also sponsored local children's sports teams as well as served in executive roles with the Marlands International Junior "B" & "C" teams.
